

Wild Hope Farm

At Wild Hope Farm, everyone is passionate about bringing high-quality, certified organic food into our local communities through sustainable farming. Their hope is to grow the land into a place for education, exploration, and celebration centered on nature.

They sell their fresh vegetables and flowers through a 150 person community supported agriculture (CSA) program with pick-up locations in Chester, Rock Hill, Charlotte and Matthews. They offer apprenticeship programs April - October for those interested in getting hands-on, educational experience at the farm! People are invited to visit the farm by attending one of their on-farm events, including farm-to-table dinners, music festivals, and workshops. To speak with them more about how you can get involved at their farm, visit their booth in the tailgate section of the Matthews farmers market on Saturdays.
