

All our vendors come from within a 50 mile radius of Matthews, so any produce they bring will be seasonal to that area. You, therefore, won't find any peaches or strawberries during the winter months. Local harvests are driven by the seasonal climates, so we may not have any pineapples or avocados, but you'll find the best fruits and greens grown in this area of North Carolina. Talk to your farmers about what crops he'll be bringing, so you can plan your shopping and menus accordingly.
